TRACS Update

JUNE 1, 2015

The TRACS wiki has migrated to a new web site!

The “new and improved” website for all of your TRACS Training and Reference needs is called the TRACS Knowledge Management Site \(or KMS\).

This site contains all of the content previously stored in the wiki but with improved organization and an easier to use format. The KMS also contains great new content, including: training videos, reference tools, an event calendars, news and forums and much, much more!

(Please note that the wiki website will continue to remain active but only as an internal repository and archive for the PAR Branch.)

The training team also has some new resources available for you:

- New videos on Advanced Mapper Tools and Using Layers and Filters are available on the “TRACS Training” YouTube Channel.
- Don’t forget that we also have videos and guides on Locating and Completing Legacy Data and User Administration.
- And now you can also connect with us using social media through Facebook, LinkedIn, and Twitter!
- In addition to classes, keep in mind we also offer scheduled, informal mentoring/round table sessions where you can drop in with a question, review a specific topic or just "chat" about TRACS with other users.

Please check out the new offerings!

On behalf of the TRACS Team, thank you for your support!
